TACOMA MODEL CITIES PROGRAM PLANS OPERATION THROUGH 1975

The Model Cities Executive Board recommended using all available grants to extend the current program, with minor changes, through Dec. 31, 1975.

The proposed budget adopted last week by the board would fund the present staff of the Community Development Department-Model Cities Division and all current projects except Minority Contractors. One new project, a math tutoring program, was funded.

Projects are expected to operate at about the same level through 1975 as they have for the last six months. Funds allocated to projects include Public Defender $16,000, Progress House $10,000, Mini-Park (25th and Sheridan) $20,000, Drug Service System $45,000, Family Clinic $35,000, Housing and Development Program $30,000, Tacoma Area Child Tutoring $20,000, Math Tutoring $5,000.

No funds were allocated to Minority Contractors because the board thought other programs had greater needs. The contractors' association is now self-supporting.

The Math Tutoring program is the only new project funded in the final allocation. After being approved by two task forces last week, the board decided to grant $5,000 to help Tacoma Community College organize a math tutoring program for its high school completion department.

The final budget is expected to go to the City Council for consideration on Nov. 26.

TV Series in Production on Early Black Settlers in West

Quintard Taylor, left, and John Dawkins are content specialist and assistant producer for a television series about black people in the Pacific Northwest being produced by public television station KWSU-TV at Washington State University.

PULLMAN, Wash.--The first of five half-hour public television shows depicting the history of black people in the Pacific Northwest is scheduled to be videotaped during the month of January in Montana.

The series is sponsored by a $242,000 grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and will be produced by public television station KWSU-TV, channel 10, at Washington State University.

Project Director Nate Long, a Seattle film and television producer, said the pilot episode will feature the work of early black cowboys. Subsequent programs will be concerned with pioneer black explorers, homesteaders, coal miners, soldiers and others, he said. The time span in the series will be from the 1800s to about World War I.

"Taping black cowboys in Montana during the month of January should prove to be a challenge," said Long. "However, meeting such a challenge will set the tone for other programs."

The series will recreate the contributions made by blacks in the development of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, according to Quintard Taylor, content specialist for the project.

Others connected with the project are John Dawkins, assistant producer; Joyce Stephens, assistant content specialist, and Marjorie Broadnax, production secretary.

Taylor, Dawkins and Miss Stephens have spent the past two years conducting research for the project as members of the WSU Black Studies Program.

Volunteers Needed to Help Seniors

Volunteers are urgently needed to answer Information and Referral phone calls on Market Street, to serve as clerks in the Plaza Craft Center, and to help in a new meal site in the South End. If you can give three hours a week in either of these services, please call 593-4800.

The Senior Citizen Craft Center at 939 Broadway Plaza is an excellent place to do your Christmas shopping. They offer a wide variety of inexpensive hand-crafted items suitable for children as well as adults. This store is not funded by any organizations. It is run entirely by the seniors themselves. Come in and help yourself.

Model Cities Has New Name

LUCILLE DELANEY, Charlotte Holmes, Zelma McChristian, Lovey Garrett, and Robert Jones were some of the Tacoma representatives at a recent Community Development workshop held by the Citizens Participation Council of the Northwest.

As the first step in formation of the city's Department of Community Development, Model Cities has been merged with Urban Renewal and is now called the Department of Community Development-Model Cities Division.

Model Cities will continue to operate its current program under the direction of Keith Palmquist who has been appointed assistant director of the new department. Gary Sullivan, former Urban Renewal director, is the director of the Department of Community Development and the Urban Renewal Division of the department.

The programs will remain in their current offices until some time after the first of the year.

Help For the Tacoma-Pierce County Community

The Educational Opportunity and Resource Center, 515 South "M" Street, Tacoma, recently opened its doors to the Tacoma-Pierce County community. Offering counseling and referral services, the EORC will serve as a clearing-house of information on educational opportunities in the area.

The staff consists of the EORC Project Director, Carroyl Kleine, three counselors, Ruth Russell, Jay Reifel, and Jon Davies, the Support Services Specialist, Linda Larson, and the Inter-agency Coordinator, Norman Gershon. Four PLS Volunteers and an intern from The Evergreen State College assist the staff.

A resident of Pierce County entering the EORC facility will be referred to a counselor. If a goal is expressed by the client, the counselors can refer to the proper institution, organization, and/or agency that will lead the client to that goal. If there are child care, transportation, financial aid, or tutoring problems, the Support Services Specialist will do everything possible to assist the client in receiving needed services.

The EORC would appreciate any offers of support from the community, especially in the form of volunteer tutors, drivers and babysitters. The phone number is 572-5960.

The Center is open from 8:00 to 4:30 Monday - Friday and from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. on Monday and Thursday evenings.

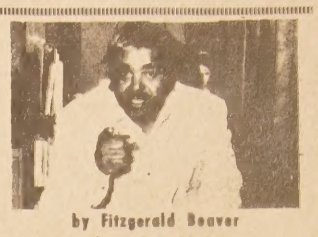
I SHALL PASS THIS WAY BUT ONCE THEREFORE ANY GOOD THAT I CAN DO OR ANY KINDNESS THAT I CAN SHOW LET ME DO IT NOW FOR I SHALL NOT PASS THIS WAY AGAIN.



by Fitzgerald Beaver
editor & publisher

You know it is always painful to me to read or hear that a young man has been slain in the great ghetto tragedy that is commonly termed "the narcotics traffic." If there was ever a gauge of where many young people are, as a struggling people, it is the dope scene. It is almost a direct measurement of the lack of real opportunity that marks the lives of our communities, its sons, and occasionally its daughters. So it makes me bitter when I see the Turkish farmers, who need to eat too, I well understand, have gone back to planting full crops of the poppies that wind up mixed with the blood of our young people.

Now that more and more young white people are caught in the same trap as our black younger generation, the agency of control and enforcement may become more successful in halting this sad flow of heroin and its conterparts into the viens of so many of our young people. But it will not heal the hearts of so many black mothers and fathers who have gone through the torture of discovering that a beloved child is in her teen years and gotten hooked. And a great mzny of these are those who were sent to Viet Nam, and who have been gunned down in contract killing when they tried to beat the dope trade's system. Nor will it restore life or property to the victims of those who need daily the price of a fix for the expensive monkey on their back. How long must it continue to be true that to be black in this privileged land is to know sorrow more often than the satisfaction of success Some things seem to change for the better. We are aware that if you compare the present with the past in some areas of life and the freedom that can make it our system. But all of that seems to cancel out for the grieving mother sobbing over the casket of the boy she raised in this perilous world.

Now there is a growing task of shortages of food and other necessities as well as the extras that add to the good things in life. The crystal ball gazers see the world wide problem with America not escaping the impact of the reduced buying power of many nation's money. There is talk and some evidence of the growing gap between the have's and the have not's. It may be later than we think. Certainly it is time to be serious about the direction in which all communities are moving, and expecially the black community. What lies around the corner, prosperity or greater troubles, we all need to help determine what the answer to the question is going to be. Look at your children. Look at what is happening, and ask yourself, "Am I doing all that I can to make sure that the right things happen?" RIGHT ON !

Task Force to See Drug Movie

The Model Cities Combined Task Force will feature a movie on drug abuse presented by the Drug Service System, a Model Cities project.

The meeting will be held Nov. 18 at McCarver School at 7:30 p.m. The agenda includes reports from the citizens participation staff and the Executive Board.

The Land Use Review Board/Housing-Manpower Task Force will meet at 7 p.m. on Nov. 18 at McCarver.

Glenda V. Winfield Joins Tacoma FACTS Staff

Glenda V. Winfield of 1120 17th in Seattle, is now a new TACOMA FACTS Newspaper staff member.

Ms. Winfield served her journalism internship at the SEATTLE FACTS, and now she will be working in Tacoma to serve you.

Every Monday, between the hours of 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m., the talented young writer will be in the TACOMA FACTS Offices, located at 1019 South 12th Street to assist the public with any news-related items.

Ms. Winfield, a former Tacoma resident, stated, "I will be glad to offer any assistance or to cover any functions or meetings in Tacoma. And remember, I need help from the public to do my job as a reporter/photographer."

For more information, don't hesitate to call Glenda Winfield at the TACOMA FACTS News Offices (627-5597), or stop in and visit every Monday between 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m., or Tuesday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the SEATTLE FACTS News Offices (324-0552).

Plaza Craft Center Doing Excellent Business

The Senior Craft Center located at 939 Broadway Plaza is well on the way to becoming one of the most popular shops in the downtown area. The store was opened September 5, 1974 as the result of a few senior citizens organizing themselves for the purpose of providing an outlet for the items that they had made. No funds have been made available to them from any source. The store is operated entirely by senior citizens. They offer a wide variety of inexpensive gifts suitable for children as well as adults. Ms. Mirian Secor, store manager, states that the opening days have been extended and that they are open from Wednesday through Saturday from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Any persons over 55 years of age may rent a booth for $1.50 per day, or may leave items on consignment for 25% of the sale price. All seniors in Tacoma and Pierce County are eligible to participate in this activity. One need not be a member of any special organization to sell in the store.

After several visits to the Senior Citizens Craft Center, Mr. Paul Meyers, a member of the Small Business Administration, states, "I can find no fault with this operation--I think they deserve a pat on the back for a job well done. Those in this operation can be proud of doing a service for senior citizens." Volunteers are urgently needed to serve as clerks a few hours each week.

The Central Area Senior Center at 2316 So. Yakima is being supervised by Virginia Matthews. Seniors are urged to come down and have a good time.

Choir In Concert

The Senior Choir of Ebenezer A.M.E. Zion Church, Seattle, Washington, is happy to present the New Jerusalem Church of God In Christ Junior Choir from Tacoma, in concert on Sunday, November 17, 1974, from 4 until 6 p.m. at the church which is located at 1716 - 23rd & East Olive Streets.

This 40 voice choir is under the direction of Mr. Edward "Sonny" Byers, assisted by Dewitt Jones, organist; and Phillip Curry at the piano. The group is very popular with their own style and arrangements, throughout the Seattle and Tacoma area, and it is an inspiration to see them in action. At present, they are recording an album which looks very promising and hopefully available to the public shortly.

One of their featured soloists is little 12 year old Neal Jones, who is often requested to sing "O' Mary Don't You Weep", and as anyone who has heard can say, he has "much soul"! A lot of credit goes to the terrific back-up from the choir under the capable direction of "Sonny Byers"!!

If you heard them at the Martin Luther King's Anniversary last Sunday at Fort Lewis, where they received a standing ovation, you know they are TOPS! So don't forget them on Sunday, November 17, 1974 in Seattle for an afternoon of singspiration!!! Come early for good seats and parking which is available back of the church at the YMCA.

Notice

The Bethlehem Baptist Church will be celebrating its 84th Anniversary on Sunday November 17, 1974 at 3:00 p.m. The Reverend L.T. Overby, Pastor of the Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church of Bremerton, Washington and his members will render the program. The celebration is under the auspices of the Building Fund, the Reverend Robert H. Davis is Pastor.

Did You Vote?

The question "Did you vote?" is more pertinent today than ever before. The people that we have elected to represent us in the City Council are making decisions everyday that effect us in a critical place, the pocket book! A prime example of this, is an ordinance for final reading on this weeks agenda. Ordinance #20244 (Continued from Nov. 6) will amend Chapter 5.20 of the official code relative to refuse rates.

The council was presented with two rate schedules to consider as proposed by the City Refuse Department. One proposal would raise monthly rates 56 per cent, while the other calls for a 40 per cent increase. Some of the concerned councilmen, headed by Jack Warnick, have been delaying this decision in an attempt to find relevant data supporting a reduction of these rates for low-income and elderly citizens on limited (fixed) incomes.

City Attorney, Robert Hamilton, has said that it would be against the law to have preferential rates. The concerned councilmen are again investigating documented figures to substantiate their belief that the low-income and elderly use less service than those with more money to spend. This would make it allowable to give a different rate based on less usage as most people on fixed incomes do not usually waste as much and would have less cans to be picked up each week.

Councilman, Harold Moss, said that he feels there should be no increase for residents at all. Residents are being taxed enough now, this is just one more tax added to a monthly bill that is already loaded down with extras. To a low-income or fixed income family, an extra $.40 or $.50 cents per month will hurt. Councilman, George Nalley and Dick Sontagg are looking into the merits of turning the refuse utility over to private businesses. The Utilities Board needs funds for equipment that has become essential. The City Council meetings are open to the public and your attendance is imperative. The councils' decisions affect us personally. It is important to take an interest, attend and voice our concerns. The City Council meetings are held each Tuesday at 5:00 p.m. in the County City Building, Council Chambers.

See you there!!!

MAMC Pharmacy and Lab Change Hours

The lack of qualified personnel has forced two Madigan Army Medical Center services to shorten their hours of operation.

The major change in the Main Pharmacy is the closure on Sundays and holidays. The remaining hours of operation are from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturday. Patients who are seen in the Emergency Room or the Walk-in Clinic on Sunday will receive emergency medication only. Other prescriptions will have to be filled the following day.

Limited service will continue in the Outpatient Pharmacy from 10 a.m. until noon and 1 p.m. until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. The only service provided is for the pick-up of prescriptions left in the Main Pharmacy the day before. These prescriptions are kept for five duty days only. If not picked up in this period, they will be returned to the regular stock.

Effective, Friday, November 8, the Outpatient Laboratory will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and closed Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. While the main Laboratory will continue 24-hour a day schedule, with few exceptions, only emergency procedures will be done after 4:30 p.m.

Something To Think About

BY Barbara Henderson

You see people on the streets going to no sure destination, hanging with the wrong crowds, doing the wrong things at the wrong time, disrespecting their parents, talking about people and simply just not having their heads together. Sit yourself down one of these days and take a serious look at yourself. Your inner-self. Where are you going? What are you doing for the black community? Where do you stand in your school? Are you with the right people? Can they influence you? Ask yourself these questions. You may achieve a better understanding with yourself, which is what everyone needs, I think. You will see an improvement. If you're not satisfied with yourself think of the things you can do to improve. Learn to cope with things that are of little value. Encourage others to do the same. Think before you speak.

Those problems that seem like big loads on your back can easily be swept away. Reason with yourself.

If you are for real with yourself you'll be for real with your brothers and sisters. Think about it.

I would like your response. Please write to me, Barbara Henderson, in care of the Tacoma FACTS. Thank you.

The Media Industrial Complex

By Mr. Imara

The electronic media and press are forgers of many persuasions and opinions in our rapidly changing world. And yet, black people continue to be excluded from mundane functions in this country, their voices are few and far between when it comes to being accurately presented and significantly heard by the media.

We perpetuate our own prison when we refuse to fight for or respond to verbalizations which are inaccurate, distorted, and/or unture.

In no way should black people nor anyone else support bureaucrats and politicians who refuse to support our institutions. How many business establishments do you know that sponsor our radio and T.V. programs?

It is totally unbelievable that black folk don't own any more than one radio and no T.V. stations west of the Mississippi River. It's tragic to imagine the largest population of black people "living" outside of the continent of Africa residing in the richest nation in the world has ever known not owning nor controlling, a worthwhile portion of its wealth.

The white man defines who we are and gave ur our slave names. By right, anything or person one names and raises one has the legal right to ownership. We have to redefine ourselves and nobody can do it for us.

How long will we continue to relinquish our right to self-determination? The old folk have been duped into believing the white folk own everything. They have stolen our minds and spirits.

The bigotry and prejudice we suffer as an oppressed people can to a great extent be rectified by more black media ownership and control.

There are two organizations bout front with media and other affirmative action concerns. (1) The Citizens Media Action Council, and (2) The Citizens Affirmative Action Council. Don't fuss or cuss, call them: Media, 572-4271; CAAC, 272-3918.

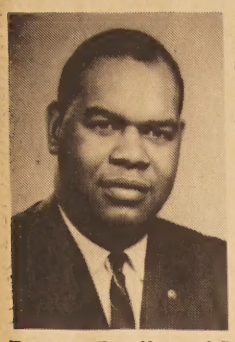
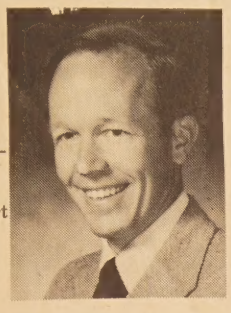
Promotions at PNB



Marvin E. Glass, Pacific Northwest Bell's southern division plant manager in Tacoma since March 1973, has been promoted to assistant vice president and named chief engineer for the company's Washington-Idaho area. Succeeding him is Gerald G. Steele of Seattle. PNB's southern division encompasses all of Western Washington south and west from Tacoma, Puyallup and Sumner.

Glass joined PNB in 1963 as an associate engineer and has since moved through a series of assignments in the engineering and plant departments. Prior to his assignment as southern division plant manager, he was district plant manager of PNB's Federal Way, Des Moines and South Seattle areas.

Glass is a registered professional electrical engineer and a member of the Society of Professional Engineers, the Urban League, NAACP and a trustee of Seattle Community College.



The new southern division plant manager, Steele, began his Bell System career in 1960 as an assistant engineer and has held positions in the engineering and plant departments. He was a district sales manager in PNB's marketing department and regulatory matters coordinator in the Company's general administration headquarters.

Lt. Col. Henry R. Thomas Is Chief of Ft. Lewis' Alcohol and Drug Prevention Program

by Glenda Winfield

Lt. Col. Henry R. Thomas Jr., as Special Assistant to the Deputy Installation Commander, is the Chief of the Coordinating Center for the Prevention of Alcohol and Drug Abuse (CCPADA). With a professional staff of two psychologists, two chaplins and two social workers, and over 70 military and civilian employees, Lt. Col. Thomas directs CCPADA with the expertise of a organized man determined to combat the poison of drugs and alcohol that has struck a large number of enlisted men and their dependents.

CCPADA is a well-thought-out program that consists of four branches; Education and Training Branch; Alcohol Counseling Branch; Drug Counseling Branch; and the Crisis Intervention Branch. According to Lt. Col. Thomas, the combination of the four branches represents a formidable enemy in the fight against alcohol and drug abuse.

The Crisis Intervention Branch is set up as a referral for crisis in marital, family and other different situations. Open twenty-four hours a day, for military personnel, the Crisis Intervention Branch can refer a person to agencies that can deal with crisis.

The Education and Training Branch consists of four different organizations. One is Project Cheyenne which is also known as the Youth Drop-In Center. Lt. Col. Thomas described its purpose. He said, "Handling over 200 people per month, the Youth Drop-In Center helps youth who have problems with parents, teachers and other youths. Trained volunteer teenage counselors help to make the Center work. It is open from 3 pm to 10 pm for enlisted men, retirees and dependents only. The Youth Drop-In Center is similar to Seattle's Crisis Intervention program." Another phase of the CCPADA's Education and Training Branch is the Alcohol Information School. According to Lt. Col. Thomas, the School is for any enlisted personnel, retirees or their dependents who have been arrested for a offense while under the influence of alcohol. Thomas continued, "The court sends that person to us, who spends eight hours a month in our Alcohol School, learning about the medical, personal and mental effects of alcohol on man, as well as its illegality." The third phase of the Education Branch is the Resource Center, which is literally a library of information on drugs and alcohol. Lt. Col. Thomas said that the Resource Center is open for eight hours a day, five days a week, and that the latest information on drugs and alcohol abuse can be located there.

The Second Branch of CCPADA is the Alcohol Counseling Branch, which consists of a full year of intensive counseling and 'curing' of enlisted men or retirees who have a alcoholic problem. Lt. Col. Thomas said, "For this branch, men may be sent to us by a court, a company commander or by his doctor. Also, a great number of our 'contacts' come directly to us, with their problem." After going through several different steps within six months, which include a physical by a doctor, individual and group counseling, medication, screening, and visits to various organizations such as Alcoholics Anonymous, the 'contact' is ready to concentrate on his own individual involvement. Thomas says the Individual Involvement phase is the time when the man starts to realize his goals and responsibilities in life, with the help of a counselor. He continued, "Also, at this time the contact's wife has been involved in counseling also, so that she can realize the mental and physical changes that will take place in her marriage with the rehabilitation of her spouse." Lt. Col. Thomas added, "With the help of counselors, Al-Anon, a program for wives of alcoholics and Al-Teen, for dependents of alcoholics, a man who is freed from the grip of alcoholism, can find an understanding and aware family with him all the way."

The Alcohol Counseling Branch also has a resident program that lasts only thirty days, and involves the contact with people with similar problems, and sports or hobbies to devote his time to. The third and final branch of CCPADA is the Drug Counseling Branch, which is a counseling program dealing with those who have a problem with drugs. Lt. Col. Thomas said, "The Drug Counseling Branch is similar to the Alcohol Counseling Branch. After sixty days, the contact is evaluated either a interim success or a failure. Those who are found as a failure are given a general discharge from the Army by the V.A., who handles it from there."

The overall success of the CCPADA is evident in a letter which was sent to all commanders at Ft. Lewis by Major General John Q. Henion, Commander of Ft. Lewis' 9th Division. The content of the letter was, "The program's significant potential as a management tool for improving personnel performance and reducing manpower losses...a disregard for manpower economy cannot be afforded within a volunteer unit...our goal should be to identify, rehabilitate and retain personnel with alcohol or other drug problems...It reflects true concern for both the mission and the men."

Lt. Col. Thomas said, "The strong amount of support given to CCPADA by General Henion is well appreciated. Without him, CCPADA would still be an idea on someone's drawing board. General Henion's support is a true demonstration of how CCPADA is regarded here at Ft. Lewis."

While juggling a busy schedule as Chief of the CCPADA, Lt. Col. Henry R. Thomas, Jr. is also involved in community organizations of Tacoma. He is the Vice President of the Pierce County Drug Allowance Program, Basileus of Fort Steilacoom Community College, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and on the Executive Board of Progress House, a halfway home for ex-incarcerated persons. Lt. Col. Thomas is presently studying in the Master's Programs for Tacoma's University of Puget Sound and Whitworth College in Spokane.

News from Tacoma Community College

Resumption of the Human Service Worker program at Tacoma Community College has been deferred to a later date, it was announced by Dr. Marjorie E. Ross, instructor-coordinator of the program.

Continuation of the program will await the meeting of the State Legislature in January and the completion of a manpower study next April.

The manpower study, funded by the State Board of Community College Education, is expected to show the need statewide for human service workers and therefore has influence on the number of people who should be trained for this type of employment. Legislative action has bearing on the funding for social action programs and the level of future employment in state agencies.

Until funds are allocated and the need for personnel is determined, efforts will be directed toward in-service education for para-professionals and volunteers.

It is suggested that students interested in the Human Service Representative program, which is more business oriented but still leads to employment in "people-oriented" settings. Additional information is available from Lorraine Stephan, 756-5168.

"WELL," said the school principal, "so you were one of the boys who threw Johnnie into the wading pool. Tell me, what part did you take in this disgraceful affair?"

"His left leg," said the youngster meekly.

Social Note

Mr. & Mrs. Geo Rivers of the Bronx, N.Y. were guests of Mr. & Mrs. Sam Underwood and Mrs. Rosie Lee Johnson. While the Rivers were in Tacoma, they had the chance to visit Mt. Rainier and Vancouver B.C. They were also featured at a dinner at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Underwood. Other guests were: Mr. & Mrs. Freddie L. Fletcher, Mr. & Mrs. Hank River and Mr. & Mrs. T.G. Dawkins. It was nice having the Rivers in Tacoma visiting his sisters Mrs. Underwood & Mrs. Johnson.
